STEAMER TO HILO

Will Have Direct Line to Coast.

Money Subscribed to Buy the Humboldt-Fast Steamer.

Hilo will probably have quick steam connection with San Francisco very shortly.

The importance of the town as a shipping port for the rapidly growing industry of coffee production demands direct steamer communication, and after years of tireless effort it looks now as though the brightest dream of the Hiloites, next to securing a wharf, will be realized.

For months past the matter has been quietly talked over by capitalists; no boom and bluster, for there are some people, even in Hilo, who object to a good thing, even when it is brought to their doors, for fear it will hurt a neighbor who is interested in some other good thing. And there are others. For that reason the promoters of the Hilo-San Francisco line have done their business in a way which prevented objectors from objecting.

Eureka, California, parties own the fastest steamer on the Pacific Coast. She is known as the "Humboldt" and plies between Eureka and San Francisco as a freight and passenger steamer against the "Pomona," which has always been recognized as the Coast greyhound. A few weeks ago the Humboldt beat the Pomona by 10 minutes over the same run. The owners of the fast steamer are ready to dispose of her, and the capital necessary has been subscribed in Hilo and Honolulu, and the offer to purchase sent up on the last steamer. The chief owner is a Mr. Sweazy, of Eureka, and it is understood he has signified his willingness to sell.

The object in establishing the new line is not to compete with the Spreckels' line, but to provide means for transporting the coffee, fruit and some sugar without having to tranship. The great drawback to increasing the fruit industry in Hilo has been the lack of quick communication to the Coast. There are hundreds of acres of land suitable for pineapple and banana cultivation in the Hilo district, and it is probable this will be utilized directly the papers connected with the sale of the steamer are signed.

The plan arranged is to have the Humboldt leave San Francisco once a month, between the trips of the Australia. She can make the run in less than seven days and not turn a hair. A week or 10 days will be required in Hilo to discharge and receive freight. At San Francisco the work can be accomplished in much shorter time, owing to wharf facilities.

GOOD BULL'S EYES.

Burnette of Co. B. Hits a Boy in the Arm.

An eight-year-old native boy, a marker at the Kakaako military range, was shot in the right arm between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon while men from the various companies were making an attempt at bull's-eyes.

As is always the habit, several little fellows were sent behind the bulkheads to do the marking, and to attend to the targets. Among the number was a native boy who has served quite frequently in the capacity of a marker. Company B men were in their place, and Company G men in theirs. The firing went on constantly in the B men's stand, when Burnette walked up to the front again and got ready for a shot. He noticed that the Ewa target—the one he intended firing at—was not pushed clear of the bulkhead into its usual position. Addressing several of the men in the company he said, "I wonder if that boy is going to push that target out any further? Well, it doesn't make very much difference. I can see the bull's eye well enough."

With that Burnette fired. The target remained in position and nothing was marked up. Thinking this very peculiar, the bell was rung. The boy made his appearance immediately and started up the walk holding his hand.

Upon arriving at the end, he was met by the Company B men. It was found that he had been shot through the fleshy part of the under side of his right arm. The bullet had made a clean puncture, and in addition to this went to the heart of the bull's-eye. How the boy could have been hit remained a mystery for sometime. The boy had been bundled off to the hospital post-haste, and the few questions put to him during the short time that elapsed until the arrival of the hack did not bring forth much information. After discussion, however, it was agreed that this is the way it happened: The boy pulled the target in to mark it, and then pushed it out, but not completely, as stated above. Then he went to the other side to fix the other target. Returning to the Ewa side again, he reached for a black master, and instead of pulling the target behind the bulkhead again, stuck his hand out and pasted the piece of paper over the spot on the bull's-eye, just as Burnette fired. The shot was a good one, much to the sorrow of the boy.

On one hand, Burnette should not have fired until the target was in position, but on the other hand, the boy had no right to put his arm from behind the bulkhead. The little fellows who do the marking at the Kakaako butts have been repeatedly told to be careful, but once in awhile, as in the case cited above, accidents will happen. Burnette is to be congratulated on his bull's-eye.

ANNUAL EXAMINATION

Of the North Pacific Missionary Institute.

The usual exercises at the close of this training school for Hawaiian pastors were attended Friday morning in Kawaiahae Church. Fifteen students have been in attendance during the year, three of them young Chinese, beginning the work of preparation for their life work as preachers among their countrymen. Classes were examined by Rev. H. H. Parker in preparation of sermons and pastoral work; by Rev. O. H. Gulick in O. T. study; by Rev. Mr. Leadingham in English Bible study and psychology; by Rev. Dr. Hyde in Bible geography and chronology and biblical theology. Hymns in English and in Hawaiian were sung, and the examinations were conducted, partly in English and partly in Hawaiian. The increasing use of English was the noticeable feature this year, and though very rudimentary, it is an indication of the coming day of general use of English by the pastors of Hawaiian churches.
